West Valley City Launches New Feature-Packed Website

WEST VALLEY CITY – Residents of West Valley City now have a new resource for working with and finding information about the City – an all-new, feature-packed website. The new site is now live, and features easier navigation, online forms, online court payment options, an opinion poll, a searchable database of frequently asked questions, and an interactive City event calendar. In addition, the website features the online job postings, and a notification feature allowing residents and anyone doing business with the city to be notified via email of new job openings, bids, and other updates.

In addition to the features that are now available, City officials are currently developing additional ways for citizens to interact with the new site. Soon, residents will be given the opportunity to submit requests for service online and receive live updates when their requests are assigned, in progress, or completed. This feature is expected to go live early 2008. Following the release of the request tracking system, development will begin on an online job application tool which will allow anyone interested in working for West Valley City to complete the entire application process online.
